

TWO NORTH CAROLINA BEAUTIES

To the right is Mrs. Edith Clarke Gregory, of Salisbury. Mrs. Gregory is a daughter of United States Senator Lee S. Overman, and the best blood of the State flows in her veins. Besides being one of the most beautiful young matrons in the State, she is a social queen, and her gracious hospitality is known to all who have enjoyed the privilege of being her guest.

To the left is Miss Lucy Haywood, of Raleigh, one of the State's prettiest daughters, and descendant of a distinguished line of North Carolina patriots, who helped to carve its history.

SOCIETY

THIS is out-of-town month par excellence with the fashionable people of Richmond, the time when summer resort life is at its fullest and when going abroad is the order of the day.

A letter received from Rockbridge Baths, a typical Virginia mountain centre, brings news that the hotel and cottages are rapidly filling up, and with scores yet to come, the social features of this popular resort are assuming a brighter outlook. Many young people have registered this week, and this always insures a gay season. The swimming pool has proved a great attraction, and draws crowds both morning and evening. With so many provisions of pleasure made for the guests and the natural attractions there is never a dull moment.

Judging from the number of Richmond people registered daily there will soon be a Richmond colony formed at "The Baths." Miss Anna Purcell, who is so pleasantly remembered from last season, arrived from Richmond the past week. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Purcell, will join her Saturday. Goldsboro, one of the most attractive cottages here, has been engaged for the season by Captain R. E. Lee, who arrived with his family from Roanoke, near West Point, last Thursday.

W. B. Sproul, accompanied by Misses Bettie Miller, Elizabeth Atkinson, of Staunton, and Miss Alice Kelly, of Norfolk, spent the week end with Mrs. Sproul and children, who are here for the summer.

Mrs. G. B. Stevenson, of Richmond, is chaperoning her daughter, Miss Eda Stevenson, who is pianist for the season at "The Baths." Late arrivals include Mrs. B. C. Heyward and son, Barnwell, of Clarksville, Ga.; Mrs. A. D. Campbell, Lexington, Va.; John T.

Sale, Fairfield, Va.; Misses Amy Tutwiler, of Richmond; Eleanor Goodloe, Goshen; John Snyder, Goshen; M. F. Richardson, Richmond, Va.

Now in Holland.

Miss Mary Butler and Miss Anita Cussons, of Richmond, Va., who sailed for Europe in May, are now in Holland. They are making an extensive trip in a small party, and will visit Brussels, Paris, London, rural England and Scotland, returning to this country the latter part of August.

Supper and Dance.

Mr. George W. Stevens, Jr., who is entertaining a house party at his home, Virginia Manor, in Rockbridge county, gave a supper and dance Wednesday evening, July 21, in honor of his young friends at Natural Bridge. Members of the house party, chaperoned by Mrs. Garrett Wall, of Richmond, are: Miss Dalton, North Carolina; Miss Louise Robinson, Norfolk; Miss Taliaferro, Upper Falls, Md.; Miss Maude Caskey, Miss Annie Gilliam and Miss Terry, Lynchburg; Bernard Jones, University of Virginia; W. T. Poague, Jr., Lexington; Herbert Jacobs and Herbert Doyle, Richmond; James Anderson and James Gilliam, Lynchburg; Mr. Taliaferro, Upper Falls, Md.; Warren Robinson, Norfolk, and George W. Stevens, Jr.

Garden Party.

Miss Gladys Whitmore, of Rivermont, Lynchburg, who has been with Mrs. P. L. Palmore, at 2438 Park Avenue, for several weeks, was given a garden party Wednesday evening at Idlewood.

About forty couples were present, and many games and pastimes were indulged in until sunset, when all repaired to the table, which was lavishly decorated. After supper the party made a round of the varied amusements in the park, and at 10:30 the crowd dispersed, after having enjoyed several pleasant hours.

It is with much regret to her many Richmond friends that Miss Whitmore left for her home in Lynchburg on Saturday evening, after having proved herself charming to those who had the pleasure of meeting her.

At Grottoes.

Master Winston Bolling, of 1017 Floyd Avenue, is spending the summer at Grottoes, in Rockingham county. Before leaving, Master Bolling played in a piano recital given at his home, and delighted many who heard him by his interpretation of a number of selections from the most famous composers.

Personal Mention.
